Let’s Talk about IEPs

Developing an effective and appropriate Individualized Education Program or IEP for a child is essential to that child’s success.

They help create the foundation for a child’s future.

Parents need to get ready early, actively participate and stay connected throughout the year.

Evaluation Timeline

- Referral received or notice initiating evaluation
- IEP team meeting scheduling
- Draft IEP sent out and before consent/notice is sent
- Request parent(s) consent for additional assessments
- Receipt of parent(s) consent for additional assessments
- Determination eligibility (IEP/placement may occur in the same meeting)
- Develop IEP and determine placement

* “Business day” means Monday through Friday, except for Federal and State holidays.
IEPs: A Road Map

An IEP is:
- A program of special education & related services
- Individualized/student centered
- A legal commitment of resources/services
- A tool to measure the child's progress
- Changeable by the IEP Team

An IEP is not:
- A daily lesson plan
- Teacher-centered
- A predetermined program

The IEP Checklist

A Guide for Before, During and After the IEP Meeting

Before the IEP: REVIEW

Make sure to review the IEP invitation – think about:
- Who is attending – is anyone missing?
- Does the date/time/location work?
- Should my student attend?
- Has any team member ask to be excused from the meeting?
Before the IEP: RESPOND

- Sign & Return the Invitation
- If appropriate, include in writing:
  - A list of who you are bringing
  - A list of concerns or issues
  - Your approval or disapproval of any IEP team member that has asked to be excused

Before the IEP: ORGANIZE

- Get your child’s records together.
- In addition to school records (such as report cards, previous IEPs, communication logs, etc.), consider any outside documentation that might be helpful such as doctors’ reports, tutor reports, outside evaluation reports, etc.
- Consider keeping a Parent Record Folder so you can easily store and access this information for each IEP meeting.

Before the IEP: PREPARE

- As you prepare for the IEP meeting, consider the following:
  - What has my child accomplished?
  - What has worked well?
  - What needs more work?
  - What are my questions/concerns? (Prioritize these)
  - Talk to your child’s teachers – what are they noticing?
  - If you are bringing someone with to the meeting, connect about their role.

- Ask who is responsible for each part of the IEP
- If you disagree with anything, ask that your concern be included in writing
- Make sure to get a copy of the IEP
- If you didn’t finish – make sure to schedule another meeting – soon!
After the IEP: FOLLOW UP
